

Dwarves' Treasure Chart

Can be done with one child or the whole class.

1. The three pages are assembled one above the other.
2. The child colors in 1 diamond for each correct behavior as predetermined by contract.
3. At seven points along the way, the child will get to color a dwarf instead of a diamond.
4. When the child gets to the treasure chest, s/he gets an additional prize.

With the whole class:

Depending upon the behavior targeted, one child may be honored by getting to color in the diamond, representing the class.

For example, when the entire class gets 100% on an assignment, one person may be chosen at random to color a diamond. The whole class gets the reward when chart is filled.
